

Journal of Studies in International Education (JSIE), an online journal focusing on internationalization of higher education

The Journal of Studies in International Education (JSIE), an online journal focusing on internationalization of higher education, student and faculty mobility and internationalization of curricula, is now available. CBIE is now offering a limited number of subscriptions to the journal at a rate of $22/year.

A one year membership, activated from February 1, 2012 to January 31, 2013 includes the five 2012 issues and access to the Journal archives for the period. The online archives hold all articles published since 1997 in a convenient PDF format.
